But Brouses Sure Low in the Anono Stat.—The Lords Summissioners of the Admiralty hereby give notice that they, on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen, as ext a consuling right to Her Majesty's ships Assistance, Resonate, Investigator, Pioneer, and Intrepid, which have been left in the Arctic Seas by their late crews.—London Gazette, Nov. 10.

A Presentation of Two Silver Goblets, appropriately inscribed, having been tendered to me, by a sees mittee of gentlemen appointed at a meeting of citissues and patrons of the Harlem Railroad, lately held at Morrisania, as an expression of regard and appreciation of my conduct as a conductor, has been accepted by me with emotions of sincere joy and grateful pleasure. Desiring, as I do, to acknowledge the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown to me in so unexpected a manner, by many and highly valued friends. I trust I shall ever prove myself worthy of their regard and confidence.

To Select a New Year's Present that will be highly appreciated, direct your steps toward BANTA'S establishment, at No. 114 Canal street. For the past affect years strict attention to his legitimate business, and upright and fair dealing, have won him a position far above most of his competitors; and we see him now universally acknowledged to be the leading Hatter and Fuzrier of Canal street. This year, however, he offers inducements to patronize his store that are rarely to be met with. Previous to his removal to his old stand, on the cerner of Canal and Wooster streets, he will clear out a most superb assortment of all kinds of European and American Purs, a most desirable stock of ladies' and misses' beaver and felt bonnots, and an unequalled variety of children's fancy hais and caps at the lowest sate. We advise all persons of refined taste and economical disposition to remember No. 114 Canal street, as the place where to find a present that will prepare them a hearty welcome on New Year's Day.

Splendidly Illustrated.—Gleason's Pictorial for the new year is already issued, and for sale by S. FRINCH, 121 Nassau street. We have never seen a handsomer illustrated paper, either European or American. On the first page is an admirable original design illustrative of Winter; a fine series of six views follow, representing interesting and striking scenes in the Orkney Islands. Next comes a large original double page engraving, covering an entire opening of this royal octave sheet, representing all the steamers and sailing vessels of the United States navy, now affort, each being a slikeness and drawn from life. This engraving alone is worth a year's subscription. Following this we have an admirable original portrait of Donald McKay, the great shipbuilder, with an original sketch of the new Cambridge Bridge, a fine view of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., including a correct representation of Gore Hall, attached to the institution. On the last page is given a large full sheet eriginal drawing, forming a natural history illustration, grouped with exquisite taste, and admirably engraved; all making eight flustrated pages, and, being one more than has ever before been given, an addition which will be continued throughout the year. Add to all this the fact that the Pictorial contains its usual freight of excellent reading matter, miscellaneous, editorials, news, wit and humor, and we are led to wonder how such a publication can be afforded for six cents. Let those who would procure a valuable and interesting weekly journal, which will carry amusement, instruction and delight into their family circles, subscribe for Gleason's Pictorial, and procure the work regularly.

Consumption and Asthma Cured by Inhalation.—This is the proper method of treating lung dispases, and Dr. Curtis's Hygeans appears to us the more preferable from its simplicity as well as efficacy. Discarding entirely the use of the tubs, the patient inhales in a natural manner the curative preparation, and in all cases, we believe, with the happiest effect. Invalids, suffering from asthma, or lung diseases, should test the virtue of Dr. Curtis's discovery. Physicians are prescribing it with the most flattering results, after exhausting their skill in the case.—Sunday Courier.

Dr. Johns, one of the most celebrated physicians in New York, writes as follows:

DR. CURTIS—Dear Sir: Having witnessed the excellent effects of your Hygeans or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup, in a case of chronic bronchitis, and being much in favor of counter irritation in affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, I can therefore cheerfully recommend your medicated apparatus as being the most convenient and effectual mode of applying anything of the kind I have ever seen. No doubt thousands of persons may be relieved, and many cured, by using your remedies. You are at liberty to use this in any way you may think proper. Respectfully, yours, &c.
